

IAHA

International Association of Hospitality Accountants - Los Angeles
October 1995

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Our September meeting at the Hilton LAX was well-attended and everyone had an enjoyable time. Speaker Thomas Kiblin got several members involved in a unique demonstration of how, even under the best conditions, communication can be misinterpreted and the humorous results drove the point home!

This month, on Thursday October 12th, we will meet again. This time for a New Member / Pre-Convention Reception at the Sheraton Grande Hotel in downtown Los Angeles. We have priced this meeting to encourage a large attendance of both members as well as non-members. The cost will be $25.00 per person and will include a sumptuous display of hors d'oeuvres and carving station prepared by the Sheraton culinary team. Each person attending will also receive tickets for 2 glasses of wine or beer included with the price of admission!

This is your chance to invite anyone interested in IAHA: your Assistant Controller, Purchasing Manager, DP Manager, Credit Manager and other members of your staff. In fact, bring your General Manager or Director of Human Resources!

I look forward to greeting and meeting all of you and, remember, this is your chance to make this chapter bigger and better than ever. So please attend!

Jerome Alper, President

New Member Reception & Hors d'oeuvres meeting

Thursday, October 12 Sheraton Grande

333 South Figueroa, Downtown Los Angeles
Reception starts - 6:30PM

This special meeting was conceived as an opportunity for new members, interested hospitality finance professionals, and guests to visit with us and learn about IAHA. Please invite anyone from your property who you believe would benefit or be interested in joining IAHA. This is your organization and we would like to help you make it successful. Remember, a large, successful chapter will mean more and better speakers as well as greater opportunities for you to network and learn from each other. So please invite and bring someone with you. The cost is a mere $25.00 per person and will feature delicious hors d'oeuvres as well as carved items. Wine and beer will be hosted.
